State officials, departmental heads and employees are planning vacation visits to Cleveland's Great Lakes exposition this summer. International in scope, it will attract hundreds of thousands of persons to Ohio's metropolis city from June 27 to August 4. The exposition will feature the latest miracles of science, art, industry and commerce, and will dramatically reflect the great industrial, agricultural and educational interests of not only the state but the nation as well. It will be international in influence, and was conceived to celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of Cleveland, the host city, and dedicated to the advancement of art, science, industry and commerce of the Great Lakes area. Important structures will include the horticultural building and gardens; the automotive building which will feature a panorama of transportation; Cleveland's $12,000,000 public auditorium where famous radio personalities will be presented daily; and the mammoth lake-front stadium, in the heart of the exposition grounds, where ever-changing spectacles will be staged. Guests from other states who attend the exposition will find it profitable to visit Ohio's many historical places of interest, including the so-called "Switzerland of America"; the Serpentine mound in Adams county and the numerous state parks scattered throughout Ohio, the first state carved out of the Northwest Territory; the fourth state in population; third in industry; sixth in minerals mined; eighth in the value of exports; among the foremost in agriculture; and a leader in education.

Inmates of Ohio's three penal institutions benefited to the extent of nearly $200,000 as a result of the payment of the veterans' bonus. Majority of the money went to 304 prisoners at Ohio penitentiary, according to Warden James C. Woodard, whose bonds for approximately $140,000 were received. Nearly fifty per cent of the inmates who shared in the bonus plan to send most of the amount received to parents, wives, children and relatives, Warden Woodard said. The funds of the others were deposited to their credit in the penitentiary cashier's office where they will be permitted to draw on the necessities. One inmate received the full $1,500. No prisoner in death row was eligible for the bonus.

Valuable assistance to libraries throughout the state is being rendered by 700 Works Progress Administration workers on fifty-five library projects in Ohio, it was announced by Dr. Carl Watson, state WPA administrator. He said that the WPA workers in supplementing branch library service and reclaiming worn volumes are doing a service which could not have been duplicated under the normal budgets of the libraries receiving the aid. The work includes cataloging, indexing, preparation of special files, typing, copying music manuscripts and general repair and clerical duties. Dr. Watson pointed out that the projects are not duplicating other library work or displacing anyone normally employed in libraries. Co-operation between WPA and the State Library has made available a large added amount of reading material in districts where there are few local libraries, it was said.

Ohio's three per cent retail sales tax continues to net the state more than a million dollars a week in revenue, according to officials in the state treasurer's office. For the week ending May 30 collections amounted to $1,166,050. The total income from January 1 to May 30 was reported at $22,216,115.

A Picture From An Old Album

At first you will wonder where this view came from and when we tell you it is on the Columbus pike, some of you may still have a few guesses coming.

However there is only one farm that we recall that has ever had a barn on each side of the road. The presence of the long row of shade trees in the view hardly meets what we find today with full grown trees on each side of the road.

This farm for more than fifty years has been noted for sheep as is indicated by the picture. Today under its present management several hundred sheep can be found grazing on the broad pastures along the Pennsylvania Railroad and up along the upper branch of Massies Creek. Take notice of the 1889 model "two horse" buggy with the latest "piano-box style." The knee action of the trotters outdoes all claims of the finest gas buggy of today.

When the wood engraving of this was taken it was of the well-known farm belonging to James McMillan, better known in his day as "Sheep-Jim McMillan," a famous sheep breeder and the nick-name distinguished him from other McMillans in the community that we also named "James."

The farm today is operated by a son of the owner at the time the view was engraved. Clayton McMillan is a worthy successor of his father. Knows his "sheep" and stands out as a successful hog feeder. The farm is well kept and always in a high state of preservation. It reflects prosperity year-in and year-out.

RE-APPRAISEMENT SHOULD BE DEFERRED

There is now a bill before the Ohio legislature which if passed will postpone the re-appraisal of all real estate in Ohio two years. Under the present law such appraisals must be made every six years. The last appraisal was made in 1931 and the next will be due in 1937.

The proposed bill is all right as far as it goes but it should be amended to postpone the appraisal due next year to 1943. Re-appraisal usually means increase in all property values except in some unusual cases. The system in Ohio is a very expensive one, much more than is necessary and planned back in the days when dollar bills grew on fence posts.

As to the value of real estate of today compared with 1929, when everything was abnormal it must be said that values of that date were far from the average value over a period of years including prosperous as well as depression years. One of the things that helped wreck the country was abnormal values of real estate and on this basis it is unfair under present conditions to consider revaluation with increased values in view. In as much as all county auditors are more or less under the control of the Ohio State Tax Commission on tax matters, the power lies in Columbus. The state board has power to increase any value local appraisers under the direction of the county auditors might believe to be fair to all concerned.

There has been some discussion in certain circles that all improvements on real estate, farm as well as urban property, should be on the replacement value. To this we are absolutely opposed and believe we represent the united sentiment of property owners in voicing our objection.

We are informed by County Commissioner Clarence Schmidt, Clark county, that he has enlisted the support of the Farm Bureau in endorsing an amendment to the present bill to postpone re-valuation for another six years. Inequalities in valuations can be cared for under the present law by the boards of equalization composed of the county treasurer, county auditor and president of the county commissioners in each county. Mr. Schmidt says it would cost more than $40,000 to re-appraise Clark county property. County Auditor James J. Carlett of this county informs us that it cost Greene county about $16,000 to re-appraise in 1931.

All counties are suffering with a shortage of revenue in this state due to demand for more money for relief, old age pensions, with still more in the making if Ohio adopts the Roosevelt social security program. At this time the estimated cost a year for Greene county is placed at $20,000. There must be some method adopted to increase revenue to meet the latter end this can only be done by increasing taxation in some form whether it is direct or indirect.

Greene county is facing a financial shortage to meet the present demands for all purposes. Just last week the County Commissioners had to ask the Court of Common Pleas for authority to transfer $8,000 from the gasoline tax funds to replenish the general fund. Recent laws and orders of state boards and commissions has forced an unusual cost of operation on each county in the state. We now face the problem of more tax money or drop some of the so-called activities that have been loaded on the counties in Ohio. It is your issue as a farm or home owner whether you wish higher valuations for taxation purposes or a retrenchment in present day operations.

To endorse revaluations is but putting the stamp of approval on what has developed as a racket in the manner in which relief is administered in Ohio, the seed of which was sown by the Roosevelt Socialistic-Communist administration in Washington. If this program is to continue—Pay Day is at Hand.

This is your problem as a citizen and taxpayer and only by your open expressed opposition can the revaluation be deferred. Tie the hands of the Columbus tax spenders and politicians who are eating as much if not more of the relief funds than those actually on relief. Our view is that all relief should be returned to local authorities in each community.

We have discussed this question with Representative W. R. McChesney, as he has with county authorities. He informs us that he will oppose revaluation next year and support the proposed plan to postpone revaluation another six years. City and state politicians can be expected to oppose this suggestion but the rural counties must stand together or be forced to assume part of the relief load in the cities. Those on relief in rural counties can hardly endorse the new proposed relief bill wherein a city resident is to get a third more than those residing in the rural counties.

REPEAL OF SALES TAX ALL POLITICAL

The suggestion this week by Gov. Martin L. Davey that the legislature remove the sales tax from foods of course strikes a responsive cord. The sales tax has never been popular but it was a necessity. It is no doubt a popular move on the part of the Governor, especially with an election only a few months away. It is unusual that he should advocate such a repeal now in view of his silence during the Democratic primary when he came near being defeated by Cong. Young, who openly advocated the repeal of the sales tax on food and clothing.

While the Governor would have the legislature drop the sales tax on food he makes no suggestion as to where the state and different political subdivisions will get the revenue now received from foods. Neither does he suggest any governmental retrenchments that would be the means of the state saving money. This same week he calls for more relief legislation and where is this money to come from. Part of the sales tax goes to relief under former legislation.

It would seem that the Governor is more interested in votes this fall than the state meeting its obligations. It is natural that consumers would not jolly over a sales tax but neither state, county or municipal governments can function if there is no money. The schools, counties, townships and municipalities would suffer with the loss of the sales tax. If no tax on food why should there be a tax on clothing, coal, lumber and a lot of things we use in every day life?

Gov. Davey at his leisure time if nothing else prevents can always call the legislature in session to pass another relief law. Every few weeks the law making body is called to pass relief laws to eat into tax funds to keep the Democratic inspectors, checkers, snappers and solicitors on the state payroll. Regardless of the claim that the New Deal has put two cars in every garage and a flock of chickens in the back yard, we are told more people are on relief this year than last and that the situation in the larger cities is growing worse day by day. We do not doubt this for the reason the Roosevelt federal white-collar politicians are making house to house canvasses seeking those who might be out on a strike, those who won't work, those out of a job and those working that would prefer relief to a steady job. Its your tax dollar the Democratic politicians have their eyes on and the unfortunate used as the vehicle to carry the load and keep the political wheels moving.

Over in Columbus this week the manager of a wholesale paper house informed us that he had offered a man $15 a week to care for his lawn, flowers and shrubbery and do chores around the house. He offered steady employment for six months to the same man that in former years solicited the job at $10 a week. The reason he would not take the job this year was that he was drawing $17.50 a week on relief doing nothing and was afraid that if he accepted a job he would be dropped from the relief rolls. This may be one of the examples why Gov. Davey keeps calling the legislature to pass more relief laws that people should not be permitted to starve.

The whole relief program from Roosevelt down to the least paid politician is a genuine racket and nothing else. The man who is supporting himself, whether a day laborer, farmer, business or professional man, is paying the bill. Put the relief and unemployment problem back where it belongs in the hands of city officials and township trustees in the rural sections and we guarantee a lot of people will be on the job that are doing nothing now. With farmers walking the streets in towns and cities trying to get help to work cities trying to get help to work demagogic politicians can continue to force their hand in the pocket of the taxpayer for purely political purposes.

We could hardly believe our eyes Tuesday evening when we picked up a Columbus paper that has been New Deal from the start of the Socialistic-Communist administration in Washington. In the column of letters to the editor we find this shocking paragraph:

"Mr. Roosevelt is not a Democrat and I don't blame the Republicans and Socialists for not wanting him. Neither is he an American. He swore to defend the Constitution and he has been trying to destroy it ever since. He is a traitor and should not have been allowed to stay in there. His family has dirtied up the White House, too, with divorces and scandals. He has done our country more harm than good, he has disgraced it. He is no American. The greatest good Mr. Roosevelt could do for the country would be to crawl in a hole and pull it in after him."

Now that the Republicans have cleaned house and nominated a national ticket that really has appeal, we can expect something else in the news columns of the daily press other than the canned news about the Deal, new, old or rotten, just as you wish to term it. You have not been promised a section of the moon or a front seat in Glory, neither can the Kansas Governor make it rain. Coming from a western state and knowing what water famine is, he makes no claim of being able to grow trees on the alkali desert. From a popular song there is a line "Only God can make a tree" but the New Dealers not to be outdone promise a belt of trees across the desert where God planted only the cactus bush.

If ever the bottom dropped out of a mushroom political growth it was when the Republican "favorite son" collapsed at the Cleveland convention last week. Of all the bushwa about this movement previous to the convention we have the contrast today of never hearing it mentioned. Landon's friends far outnumbered all opponents. Col. Frank Knox, a presidential possibility, was credited with 38 pledged votes in the "favorite son" delegation, which left the traders with little to offer. Clarence J. Brown, state leader for the Knox campaign, gets the credit of dropping the curtain on several has-beens. He evidently had the commission as he headed the list of delegates with the largest popular vote. He seconded the nominating speech of Col. Knox for the vice presidency. By this time the "favorite son" boom had been shoved down the shoot into the convention hall basement. Brown will have a

THE TOPIC FOR TODAY IS WHEAT GRADING

Of all questions coming up when a farmer markets his products, the least is understood about grading grain.

WEIGHT—Standard weights per bushel indicating quality and moisture which effect cereal and flour out-turn provide a justified penalty for below standard and premium for above standard.

MOISTURE—Although water is heavier than wheat, it swells the grains making fewer grains per bushel, cutting down the weight. Shipping wheat with moisture above standard is trying to sell water at the price of wheat.

We are equipped to accurately grade wheat so that you will not get disappointing returns and we handle grain instead of gamble.

TO MEET COMPETITIVE PRICES WE OFFER THE HIGH GRADE RACKO TWINE AT $4.00 CASH.

MORE THAN 800,000 NEW 1936 CHEVROLETS have been sold

America

is giving overwhelming preference to Chevrolet because it's

The only complete low-priced car

MORE than 800,000 new 1936 Chevrolets have been built and sold—more than four-fifths of a million since announcement day—the largest volume of business that Chevrolet has enjoyed in any comparable period in its entire history.

Record-breaking sales always indicate record-breaking value, and that is why we are printing these figures. They are important, not because they establish a record, but because they carry the following message to all people who have yet to buy their 1936 cars.

America is choosing Chevrolet because America is convinced that Chevrolet represents the most motor car for the least money.

"The most motor car," because it's the only low-priced car with such vitally important features as New Perfected Hydraulic Brakes and Solid Steel one-piece Turret Top for greatest safety; Improved Gliding Knee-Action Ride; Shockproof Steering and Genuine Fisher No Draft Ventilation for greatest comfort; and a powerful High-Compression Valve-in-Head Engine for the most efficient all-round performance.

And "the least money," because Chevrolet's low purchase price, low operating costs and low maintenance costs make it the most economical of all cars to own.

America is saying these splendid things about Chevrolet with actual buying orders! Follow America's judgment. Place your order for a new 1936 Chevrolet—the only complete low-priced car!

Lesson for June 21

JESUS EXALTED

LESSON TEXT—Luke 24:36-53
GOLDEN TEXT—Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name.—Philippians 2:9
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus, Goes Home to Heaven.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Goes Home to Heaven.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Lord We Worship.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Exalted Christ and the Unfinished Task.

In order properly to view the ascension of Christ into heaven, it would be well to study his ministry during the forty days prior to his ascension.

1. The Walk of the Two Discouraged Disciples (vv. 13-15).
Emmaus was seven and a half miles northwest of Jerusalem. Just why these disciples were walking this way we do not surely know. Perhaps their home was there. Or they were merely walking to seek relief from their sorrow. If they had believed what Jesus had told them about his death and resurrection, they would have escaped this great disappointment. Jealousy causes many heartaches and disappointments. The topic of conversation was the tragedy of the cross and the resurrection rumors. So little had his teaching about the resurrection impressed the disciples that the reports which the women brought were as idle tales to them.

2. The Unrecognized Companion (vv. 16-24).
1. Who he was (v. 15). While they reasoned together on the wonderful events of the last few days, Jesus joined them. When he questioned them concerning their sadness they did not recognize him. How often we are so engrossed with our sorrows and disappointments that we fail to recognize Jesus, even though he is walking by our side.

2. His question (v. 17). Perceiving their sadness and perplexities, he sought to help by calling forth a statement of their grief.

3. Their answer (v. 18). His questions so surprised them that they jumped to the conclusion that he was a stranger in Jerusalem. The condemnation and crucifixion of the great prophet of Nazareth were so recent and notorious that no one who had lived in Jerusalem could be ignorant of them.

3. The Scriptures Opened (vv. 25-31).
1. His rebuke (vv. 25-30). He did not rebuke them for not believing the strange stories that they had heard, but for ignorance of and lack of confidence in the Old Testament Scriptures. They had only accepted such parts of the Old Testament as suited their notions. The very center and heart of the Old Testament Scriptures set forth the death and resurrection of Christ. Ignorance of the Scriptures and unbelief as to the wonders and complete redemption wrought by Christ rob us of many joys and deprives us of power as workers for Christ.

2. Jesus Recognized (vv. 31-35). While sitting at meat with the disciples, their eyes were opened as they saw him bless the bread and distribute it to them. We too may see the Lord on such common occasions as eating a meal if we have open eyes. Indeed, we ought to see him when eating, buying, selling, and in our recreations, for he has promised his abiding presence. They were so filled with joy over this revelation of the Savior that they listened back to Jerusalem to tell the other disciples of his resurrection.

4. Jesus Stands in the Midst of the Eleven (vv. 36-47).
1. He said, "Peace be unto you" (vv. 36, 37).
However, they were terrified and frightened. Stagnant man in the presence of a holy God is ill at ease.

2. He showed them his hands and his feet (vv. 38-40). In order to convince them of his personal identity, he gave them tangible evidence that he was not a mere spirit.

3. He ate before them (vv. 41-43).
4. He commissioned them to evangelize the world (vv. 44-49). They were to testify concerning his shed blood and resurrection, and on this ground they were to preach repentance and remission of sins to all nations.

5. Jesus ascends into heaven (vv. 50-53).
Having given them the parting message to evangelize the world he ascended into heaven. From his place in heaven he continues to carry on his work through his disciples as they are energized by the Holy Ghost. Just as we treasure the last words of our departed loved ones so we should ponder this farewell message of our Lord.

Magnet of Thankfulness
The unthankful heart, like my finger in the sand, discovers no marvels; but let the thankful heart sweep through the day, and as the magnet finds the iron, so will it find in every hour some heavenly blessings, only the iron in God's hand is gold.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Growth to Perfection
Earth holds heaven in the bud; our perfection there has to be developed out of our imperfection here.—C. Rossett.

Temperance Notes

Sponsored by Cedarville W. C. T. U.

The liquor deal seems to be a success under the New Deal.

The alcohol tax unit seized 10,585 stills, 904,205 gallons of spirits, 19,024,225 gallons of mash, 5,171 automobiles and made 31,480 arrests. The Coast Guard seized 41 vessels, 13,733 gallons of alcohol and other liquor.

Remember this was last year under repeal and not under prohibition.

"If Pa was to come staggerin' in at midnight cussin' and sick at his stomach, it wouldn't make no difference to me whether he got his liquor legal or sneakin'; he'd be just as drunk either way."—Aunt Het.

Dr. Theron Kilmer, police sergeant of Long Island, after a careful analysis of reports from the Commissioners of Motor Vehicles of every state issuing driving licenses, found that drunken driving had increased 45 per cent since repeal.

At the last convention of the Utah Christian Endeavor a large number of young people signed a total abstinence pledge. No better work can be done among young people today than that of pledge signing.

WILLIAMSON-DOBBS
NUPTIALS TUESDAY EVENING

Miss Marie Williamson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williamson, Jamestown pike, and Mr. Harold Dobbins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dobbins, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

The impressive ceremony took place beneath a white trellis arch arranged in the living room, a large white wedding bell suspended from the arch. Tall floor vases of white June lilies and delphinium and lighted candleabra were placed on each side. The home was decorated in profusion with summer flowers and candle light.

A program of nuptial music was played on the piano by Miss Eleanor Collins. Mr. Fred Collins sang, "At Dawning" and "O Promise Me."

The single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. H. B. McElree of the Second U. P. Church, Xenia, assisted by Rev. R. A. Jamieson of this place. Miss Frances Williamson, sister of the bride, and Mr. Max Dobbins, brother of the bridegroom, were attendants.

Miss Williamson wore a gown of blue flowered organdie with accessories and carried a bouquet of pink roses, blue delphinium and baby's breath. The bride wore a gown of lace, fashioned over princess lines with high neckline and long sleeves. She wore her mother's wedding veil and carried a shower of Talisman roses, sweet peas and baby's breath.

The seventy-five guests were served in ice course, twelve being seated at the bride's table. Later in the evening the bride and groom left for a trip to the East to be gone a week or ten days. On their return they will reside on a farm on the Jamestown pike.

Mrs. Dobbins is a graduate of Central High School, Xenia, and Wittenberg College, and has taught in the Xenia City school the past two years. Mr. Dobbins graduated from Cedarville High School and Cedarville College and Ohio State University.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dobbins have issued invitations for a reception for the bride and groom for Friday evening, June 28th.

Mr. Fred McMillan left Thursday on a business trip to Chicago and Des Moines. Mr. McMillan has been spending several weeks with his brother, Mr. Clayton McMillan and family. He is much improved following an illness of some time.

Probate Judge S. C. Wright fined Leroy Byrd, 28, Xenia, colored, $25 and costs and 60 days in jail for giving liquor to his four-year old son, who received enough to become intoxicated.

Seven preachers were on the platform. Sunday morning the evangelist spoke on "Bridal Chorus." Farmers Have Method Of Improving Pasture

Use of Lime and Phosphate
Doubles Yields of Grass and Reduces Milk Costs
One-Third

Two Muskingum county farmers have proved that pasture lands which have been treated with lime and phosphate fertilizer will produce twice as much grass as the same kind of land which has received no treatment. Ben St. Clair and Geo. L. Porter are the two men who have been making the tests.

These men also found that it was possible to increase the production of grass on the land by 300 per cent by using lime, phosphate, and nitrogen. Land which had received the last treatment also furnished good pasture two or three weeks earlier in the year than unimproved lands.

V. S. Barnhart, county agricultural agent, arranged meetings at the farms of the two experimenters and 75 farmers examined the work which had been done. D. R. Dodd, specialist in agronomy, Ohio State University, who has assisted the two farmers in choosing the pasture improvement methods explained the reasons for the differences in the growth of pasture on the different parts of the fields.

The pasture land first had been tested to find if it needed liming and then had received as much lime as was necessary. The amounts varied on the two farms. The application of 20 per cent superphosphate was made at the rate of 600 pounds per acre in 1931 and an equal amount in 1935. This method of applying the phosphate is more economical than applying 150 pounds each year and has given larger increases in yields of grass.

On parts of the fields where nitrogen was used, 200 pounds of sulfate of ammonia was applied each year during the last of March or the first of April. The addition of nitrogen increased the amount of grass, and more cattle could be carried on the land but the use of nitrogen did not lower the cost of producing milk or meat on pasture. Lime and phosphate decreased the cost of producing milk or meat on pasture by one-third.

The soil on the St. Clair and the Porter farms is Muskingum silt loam. The pasture lands are rolling and had not been plowed for several years before the start of the experiments in 1931. The pasture is a mixture of bluegrass and white clover. Visitors at the farms saw that the livestock grazed on the parts of the fields which had been limed and fertilized and stopped grazing at the edge of the unimproved land.

THE BIRTH OF AN ORACLE

One day, many centuries ago, a Greek goatherd was sitting in a shady and comfortable spot watching his animals while they cropped at bits of dwarfed stubble. All at once, he noticed them acting strangely, walking unsteadily, and even seeming to reel in their gait. Frightened and astonished, he jumped to his feet and ran until he came up with them. When he reached them, he was seized by a peculiar light-headedness.

The goatherd hurried home to tell his friends about what had happened. The next day they accompanied him to the scene of his experience, where they, too, grew giddy, and very soon began acting like men intoxicated.

Almost overnight the spot became holy, and the oracle of Delphi—destined to determine Greek state policy and stratagem of war for centuries—was born. That was over twenty-five hundred years ago.

Today, we know that there was nothing supernatural about the oracle of Delphi—that nothing more than an emanation of surface gas was responsible for the giddiness, strange actions, and mysterious sayings of the people who visited there and the priestesses who presided over it.

Although it is no longer looked on in the light of the supernatural, Gas, in the modern sense of Gas Heating Comfort, ranks well among the wonders of present day science. Pioneering research and hundreds of discoveries have made Gas into the finest form of househeating known. Piped from vast reservoirs, it now provides uniform, measured warmth throughout the winter months without the least need for care or attention. Clean, silent, automatic, it has freed the modern home from all the old-fashioned drudgery of furnace tending, cooking and water heating.
